

ICIA SUPPORTING MEMBERS

The Indigenous Cannabis Industry Association (ICIA) is a voluntary association composed of supporting Tribes and members representing tribally owned and operated businesses and other companies supporting Indian Country engagement and success in cannabis economic development.

ICIA's Objectives:

The Indigenous Cannabis Industry Association (ICIA) exists to promote the exploration, development, and advancement of the cannabis industry for the benefit of all Indigenous communities. ICIA is dedicated to the advocacy and empowerment of our Indigenous cannabis businesses, influencers, and aspiring entrepreneurs along with being a conduit of connection and data for Indigenous Nations as we push towards a vision of an equitable, just, and sustainable Indigenous cannabis economy.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW BEFORE APPLYING FOR AN ICIA MEMBERSHIP

When you become a member of the ICIA, you become part of a highly motivated, self-determined community of Tribal cannabis businesses, enterprises and supporters that is dedicated to being responsible, trustworthy and compliant. Our board only accepts members that are committed to the Code of Conduct of ICIA and supporting a tribal cannabis industry led with integrity.

Code of Conduct

Tribal Community Responsibility

- ICIA members believe that a diverse and nondiscriminatory work environment is critical to uphold a healthy industry.
- ICIA members will be respectful of all community members, especially those that are lacking knowledge about the benefits of cannabis by educating and informing with data.
- ICIA will collaborate with organizations seeking to explore and shape the future of the industry to ensure equity for Indigenous communities.
- ICIA will collaborate with community, public health and other tribal organizations committed to health, safety, resource distribution, research and education.

Clean Cannabis

- ICIA will work with Tribal cannabis and regulators, officials and lawmakers to advocate for scientifically-based processes to ensure cannabis products are safe for patients and non-patients alike.
- ICIA growers seek the highest industry standards when it comes to testing, quality-control and pesticide screens practiced consistently by independent testing facilities.
- ICIA retailers mandate that the products that make it to their shelves have passed rigorous and comprehensive inspection.

Tribally-Regulated

- ICIA is committed to industry collaboration and mutual benefit for all stakeholders in the Indigenous Cannabis ecosystem.
- ICIA members will develop and support public policies that anticipate trends, address problems and provide solutions that protect Tribal sovereignty in cannabis trade and commerce while maintaining accountability to Indigenous Communities.
- ICIA upholds all tribal laws that mandate cannabis products are intended for adults of legal purchase age or medical use.

Tribal Relations

- ICIA members are in the process of forming an Indigenous Cannabis Media Campaign to provide the much-needed documentation and education about tribal economic pre-histories to help support cannabis development and eliminate negative stigma. We are committed to uplifting our members stories- past, present and future- in our dedication to protecting Indigenous intellectual property in cannabis.
- ICIA will encourage each member to participate in and support our media campaigns and documentary projects by sharing your tribal ethnographies in cannabis development or how the impacts of cannabis prohibition has historically impacted your community, families and resources.

This list is non-exhaustive. The ICIA has sole discretion to admit applicants.

WE NEED YOUR HELP

Your donations and membership support helps us aim high! Help ICIA strengthen our mission to advocate for tribes by building comprehensive cannabis policy that addresses the health and economic wellbeing of American Indian and Alaska Native communities. Our goal is to ensure that tribal communities have the resources and knowledge to build well regulated, sovereign cannabis economies. With your help we can create access and opportunity while protecting tribal sovereignty in the nation's capital and in states still fighting to advance access to health and economic equity.

Join Today...

You can help by becoming a member Tribe of ICIA. Help us to educate our tribal, state and national leaders about issues impacting Indian Country economic development in cannabis. You may complete a membership form above, attaching your tribal resolution and pay your dues by check or card.

Talk with your tribal peers, have them become a supporting member of ICIA and advocate for the protection of tribal sovereignty in our policy summits, networking events, newsletters and direct action as we build our capacity for Indian Country policy advocacy. Do not get left behind- help us unite tribes in cannabis as we blaze trails for protecting tribal sovereignty in cannabis decriminalization.

Send any questions, comments or request more information to Mary Jane Oatman, Chief Operating Officer, mjoatman@indigenousscannabis.org or (208)790-8665 or Rob Pero, Chief Executive Officer at rpero@indigenousscannabis.org
